

ANNUAL CONVENTION CANDIDS

Bruce Roloson (left) with long-time AWA Convention bookseller Jerry Simkin at the book fair.

A group of nice consoles, along with an Atwater Kent grandfather clock radio, await their turn on the auction block.

Vying for the best camera angle at the Banquet's International Table are (from left) Dan Bedford, Bart Lee and Lynn Bisha.

Alan Carter of the UK responding to our welcome of the international guests.

Rita and Merrill Bancroft in the contest Room.

A couple of Atwater Kent breadboards await buyers at the flea market.

Nancy Ransley (left) and Jane Wooters chat in the corridor.

The Rochester DX Association manned an information booth at the flea market.

The Convention ladies enjoyed their own special buffet luncheon. Robert Lozier Photo.

From left: Lauren Peckham, Bart Lee and Bruce Roloson look over scrapbooks of West Coast wireless material.

Geoff Bourne (right) drops in on Floyd Engels, who is "tailgating" in the flea market.

Tables full of interesting auction lots laid out for public inspection.

ANNUAL CONVENTION CANDIDS

Lindsey Malin and Paul Ruffo enjoy the International Dinner. (Brad Allen photo)

A truckload of goodies being unloaded prior to the flea market opening.

The book fair is always well stocked with vintage books, magazines and other publications.

From left: Franz Pichler, Hiroshi Osanai and Tadanobu Okabe at the Banquet's International Table.

Museum Curator Bruce Roloson's Keynote address included a historical presentation with nostalgic photos from past AWA conventions. Brad Allen Photo.

Enjoying the Italian Buffet Dinner are (from left) Museum Deputy Director Bob Hobday, AWA Journal and AWA Gateway Editor Marc Ellis and Australian member Dan Bedford. Brad Allen Photo.